

ACTIVE CAPITAL
(formerly known as Angel Capital Electronic Network or ACE -Net)

The Angel Capital Electronic Network (ACE-Net) is now known as Active Capital and is a nation wide Internet-based option for entrepreneurs seeking from $250,000 to $5 million in equity investment.

Operating as a 501[c][3] nonprofit organization, Active Capital brings together entrepreneurs seeking private investment and backers seeking investment opportunities in a secure and protected environment consistent with all investment laws.

System Operator:

The Small Business Services Division of the Cabinet for Economic Development is the contact point for Kentucky based entrepreneurs interested in seeking investment or Kentucky based backers interested in providing investment.

The Subscription Process:

Entrepreneurs interested in having their information listed in the Active Capital database must complete a brief and confidential subscription form and submit it to the Small Business Services Division. Additionally, each business is required to be aware of and satisfy the federal securities and state securities registration requirements.

Investors wishing to participate in Active Capital must subscribe confidentially for a password from the Small Business Services Division to access the database. Investors must certify that they satisfy the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission's definition of an accredited investor and may limit their search to businesses in specific industries, geographic areas, amount of capital being requested, or other criteria.
